Later Senator Lexow acknowledged that the reporter's surmise was correct, and that he had been before the Grand Jury for the purpose specified above.

It is known that there is a division in the Grand Jury as to whether or not the matter of police bribery shall be taken up. There are a number of the Grand Jurors who insist that it shall be gone into at once. They have for a strong argument the special charge of Judge Cowing to them to investigate the conduct of police and

There are only a very few prison cases for the Grand Jury to act upon now, and they will have to undertake the police investigation soon, if at all.

Col. Fellows declined to discuss the question at all, and wound up his letter upon the subject with this question:

"How did you find out about it, anyhow?"

ZUNDT PUT ON TRIAL.

The Detective Kept Back Lexow Witness Patterson's Reward.

Detective-Sergeant George V. Zundt, of the Brooklyn Central Office again was placed on trial before Police Commissioner Wells this morning on a charge of violating the rule of the Department which requires all members of the force to pay 10 per cent. of all rewards into the Police Pension Fund.

The trial had not proceeded more than fifteen minutes when the hearing was adjourned. The charge against Zundt was the outcome of the Lexow investigation. The reward of $500 for the capture of Patterson, a merchant, told a story concerning the peculiar manner by which he recovered a diamond ring which had been stolen from him in Brooklyn a year ago. He gave Zundt a check for $50 as a reward for the recovery of the ring.

Police Commissioner Wells made an exhaustive investigation of the matter, and returned a verdict against Zundt from Mr. Patterson's suspicions of crookedness in the transaction. In accord with the rule of the Department,

To sustain the present charge Commissioner Welles will have to rely upon the testimony of the defendant.

At the trial to-day it was admitted by Lawyer Mark D. Wilbur on behalf of Zundt that the defendant had received a part of the reward, although he had not recovered the diamond. Lang and Zundt were given $10,000 for the execution of the money. They told Zundt to keep the money, it was alleged, because he was a Jew and they were afraid on another check which he had given Zundt in payment for money loaned.

Lang and Zundt were given $10,000 by Deputy Commissioner Dallan had given Zundt permission to retain the reward.

Mr. Campbell corroborated the last statement of Commissioner Welles. He admitted having received a letter from Mr. Dallan stating that Zundt had received permission to retain the reward.

"This reward belonged to the 'New York men,' said Mr. Wilbur. 'They were the ones who gave the reward.'"

Still Getting Evidence Against Alleged Police Blackmasks.

Lawyer C. G. Carothers, who is assistant to Assistant District-Attorney Wellman, this morning resumed the work of examining witnesses as to the alleged police blackmail. The work has been going on for four or five weeks but was dropped when the Lexow Committee again resumed work.

Carothers has a number of respectable people and came from uptown.

Mr. Carothers says he is preparing to examine a number of police officers.
